

THE GRAND ILLUSION

This huge, pivoting mirror twists on its switches and sockets – which were produced by PLH Italia – allowing light to be directed into any room in the apartment. The walls surrounding it are covered in Venetian plaster, and the round 'Human Circle Inferno' carpet beneath it was designed by Veneziano and Di Virgilio for Nodus.

MAKE LIGHT WORK

As this apartment features irregular ceilings and corners, it made sense to create a lighting system for each individual area, rather than one for the whole space. Recessed spotlights and floor lamps mean that light continues to dart playfully around the apartment long after the sun has disappeared. The wall and ceiling lamps are by bespoke lighting designers PSLab. Stockist details on p167 >

THE LARGE, ROTATING MIRROR IS A CLEVER
CENTREPIECE, CATCHING GLINTS OF DAYLIGHT
FROM THE MURANO GLASS VASES

VENETIAN SPLENDOUR

The kitchen is situated in an awkward nook that lacks light. However, with help from the pivoting mirror at the entrance to this space, the cabinets and worksurface in Venetian red – a dark scarlet – develop a warm glow. Harvey Jones can build bespoke units. Stockist details on p167 >

